HOT FIPS ON FINANCE. Mamma's Boy He Organizes an Insurance Company

By Roy L. McCardell.

Letters from an Insurance Man Abroad to His Son on Broadway.

Y DEAR BOY-You wonder, doubtless, at my epistles coming, as it were, like balls out of a Remain candle. I write to advise you. You won't follow my advice, but it is relief to the adviser. Advising is a trait in human nature as strong as the instinct of excuse. No man or wom-an ever bore a reproof, no matter how well deserved, without indignantly coming to their own rescue. Try to borrow money some time. You may not get the money, but you'll be handed a lot of advice.

Watch what I say, McCall, McCurdy, Hyde and all the Watch what I say, McCail, McCurdy, Hyde and all the rest are honest in one thing—that no matter how much of other people's money was diverted they diverted it for the best interests of all. They paid blackmail to keep from being blackmailed. They syndicated to keep from being blackmailed. They syndicated to keep from stock your remarks about recent happenings in New York. You are young, my son, that's why you are puzzled. There is always a reason.

You complain that you hunted for three hours and could not find a Temple of Chance open. The password, up to the week I left New York, was "I just had a letter from mother." Walk up the street with a friend past the steel-plated doors and say it loudly, but in a general conversation tone.

You will then see a husky stranger emerge from a shadow somewhere about who will whisper, "It's all right, gents." And so you'll find it.

Preferably get in a place that the captain of the precinct has an interest in:

Preferably get in a place that the captain of the precinct has an interest in; but even then no one is safe from a raid these days.

You take my word for it, it will be like Oscar Hammerstein told me ence when they were raiding the restaurants for having muse on Sunday.

"I'm getting scared," said Oscar. "The first thing we know they'll be midness."

The police are on the qui vive, so I'd advise you to keep away from soda untains, bargain sales or candy stores. There is no telling when the gong mon to due.

The only safe place seems to be the Old-Established McCurdy Family Resort, or John A. McCall's Speakeasy. Swips a dollar and you'll be clubbed to the calaboose. Divert a few millions and the worst you'll get will be an in-vestigation, which will not leave you much character, but won't deprive you of

I was foolish to get nervous prosperity and put my share of our surplus in a shawl strap and sail for a foreign shore. But I'm not coming back, and I don't think Andy Hamilton is, either. He said he would, but Andy was talking for publication and dence of good faith.

No, I think Andy and I will stay as a nucleus of a colony of New Yorkers

No. I think Andy and I will stay as a nucleus of a colony of New Yorkers that will not be able to see a foreigner with ten deliars and no inherited tendency to tuberculosis without sighing to think of how they could sick a Nyito on him and thave him as a source of income for the rest of his days.

I see by the papers you send me that Police Captain Dooley has been transferred from Coney Island to the Tenderloin. I knew that was coming, and I can venture a guess that Pat McCarren can tell you why.

There will be a lot of surplus Democrats moving down from the Red Hook district in Brooklyn to Gravesend in time to vote this fall. Dooley was supposed to be an obstinate man, and if anybody ever asks you if a man can be in two places at once say, "Yes. on Election Day."

If my name is mentioned for Mayor on the Republican ticket tell Billy Halpin there's nothing doing. Mine may be; everybody else's has.

Well, spend your money gracefullys it is all in the family, as our Mutual friends, the McCurdys, would say.

YOUR DAD.

The Lament of the Masher.

By Albert Payson Terhung.

(Since the hundred-pound Japanese girl And then some things occurred! threw a burly admirer over her head by a For the pavement flew up and attacke trick, other New York maldens are ng to lease the same means of defend-themselves against meaners.—News

board eye
And a lamp-post scraped me raw.
My ribe enapped like tautaned guitar DT me rest a minute, Stranger, Till I put back a rib or two strings;

My legs did a D. T. reel,
While sky and ground spun round and round tured arm, And set my shoulder anew. Don't look at me that way, Stranger

I once was a model of grace, Yes, that's why I look like th Not merely a shine with an ingrowth

It was down on dear old Broadway ("I'd been out-of-town for a week And I didn't know it was ult the go

They'd have mopped him off the map. And, It's oh, for some comy battle-field Or some gentle Mada fray.

YOU PAY US TWO HUNDRED A YEAR AND WE GIVE YOU FIVE THOUSAND AT THE END OF 20 YES. IT'S EASY MONEY - BESIDES YOU GET?

YOU'RE FOOLISH DIXIE, TO EAT? THAT CAN DY NOW WHY DON'T YOU GET INSURED AND MAKE TO US NOW AND IN TWENTY YEARS YOU'LL HAVE ALL THE

But Investigation Follows Swiftly.

YOU BE THE AGENT SIS, AND I'LL BE PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY-YOU GET YOUR SHARE. DIXIE GETS THE DEFERRED DIVIDENDS .

DON'T SPANK THE DEAR,

CHE'LL BE A SECOND MECURDY SOME DAY

'Tis Love That Makes the World Go 'Round.

He-When I told Clarence I was going "Don't you worry, mister, just because "Why, Willie! You don't mean to say He-You wouldn't marry a man for to propose to you he said he wished he me sister has trown youse down on you are making love at your tender his money, would you now, Dora?"

Was in my boots.

NIXOLA SHITH

By F. G. Long In and Out of the Theatres

TRE'S something to cheer the burdled Brooklynite on his way. The extravagantly emotional Bernhardt, in her memoirs, printed in Je Sols Tout before coming out in book form, gives this highly-colored description of the Bridge of Size:

"Oh, that Brooklyn Bridge! It is mad! Admirable! Grandt When one considers that a human brain has created, suspended in the air, 56 meters from the earth, that frightful mechanism that supports 10 trains crowded with travellers, 10 or 12 tramways, 100 carriages, cabs, wagons, thousands of foot passengers; all that floating to gether in the uprearious music of metals that cry, grind, groan, crunch under the enormous weight of things and people! The displacement of air caused by the tempest of that frightful shutting made me dizzy and I caused the three the strange and indefinable sensation of universal chaos. I reopened my eyes, my breath. I signalled to stop the carriage and I closed my ayes. I had then the strange and indefinable sensation of universal chaos. I reopened my eyes, my breath being quieted, I saw New York stretched along the river and donning its ornaments for the night as scintillating under its robe of thousands of electric fires as the firmament under its tunic of stars."

Wouldn't that make you walk!

Wouldn't that make you walk!

Fields's Theatre, has been a close student of 'Johnnios' and their attempts to pass him, or at least net attempts to pass him.

pale with terror, they knelt in prayer on the decks, crying and whimpering in the most cowardly manner.

C PRAKING of the French, Mme. Rejane appears to have abandoned her plan of establishing a school of acting in this city. But there are others. Mr. Henry E. Direy's announcement that he will start a school at the Madison Square Theatre for children between the ages of eight and fifteen is interesting.

"The greatest actors on the American stage, past and present, with but "GHARLES DARNTON.

HE "divine one" will begin her attempts to pass him or at least net engagement at the Lyric Theatre, messages, pass him. But he mei h.s on Nov. 29. During the two Watersto two on three mights ago, when weeks she is to be here the French acweeks she is to be here the French actress will appear in "Camille," "La Tosca," "The Sorceress," "Adrienne Lecouyreur" and "Angelo."

After her recent trip to Buenos Ayres she thinks even less of men than before. When nearing the coast of South America the liner on which she travelled was caught in a terrific hurriesne and the captain informed his passengers, that he had no hope of saving his vessel from going to the bottom.

"The way in which the men, sallors as well as passengers, behaved," she writes, "was disgusting. Their faces, pale with terror, they knelt in prayer on the decks arrives and galanceder.

"I felt proud of my sex when I saw sie were dead at the Grand that, after the shook of the announce. Opera-House Monday night brought ment that our ship was doomed, the unexpected returns next day. Three men.

"That we did not go to the bottom was a miracle, as every man of the crew had left his post to wring his hands in despair, and the ship was tossed like a cork in the trough of the sea.

"Still more disgusting was their bragging after the danger was over, when every one tried to convince every one else that he had not been frightened at all."

PEAKING of the French, Mms.

Rejane appears to have abandoned 46 THERE'S great exelement out

| ters, |ce-creams, desserts without pre-

HINGS FOR BEAUTY-JEEKERS.

MAY MANGON' J DAILY FASHIONS.

To Gain Flesh.

cheerful disposition. I give you some profes for emaciation, although you do not appear to have reached that point:

Absolute freedom from care and anxiety. At least ten hours elsep out of every twenty-four. In addition to this, order to pursue the latter pripedly it a order to pursue the latter pripedly it and the day if nossible. This every twenty-four. In addition to this, naps during the day if possible. This sieep must always be natural. Nothing is so bad for the appearance and general health as sleep induced by anodynes or narcotles in any form. The distance of food containing starch and hardless the liberal and should consist largely of food containing starch and where the development is meagre in the countries. largely of food containing starch and sugar; potatoes, fresh sweet butter, milk, cream, fruits cooked and served with sugar, all vegetables containing starch and sugar, such as corn, sweet potatoes, beans peas, foods of the macaront and spaghetti kinds, fish and oys-

B and of not will be greatly in try: plenty of outdoor life and a mod-He—When I told Clarence I was going to propose to you he said he wished he was in my boots.

She—Gh, your boots are large enough. Bhe—Gh, your boots are large enough. Bhe—She, indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't wait till you have some experience with bapa's.

"Don't you worry, mister, just because "Why, Willie! You don't mean to say you are making love at your tender his money, would you now. Dora?"

She—No. indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't marry a man for his money, would you now. Dora?"

She—No. indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't marry a man for his money, would you now. Dora?"

She—No. indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't marry a man for his money, would you now. Dora?"

She—No. indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't marry a man for his money, would you now. Dora?"

She—No. indeed, Charlie. I wouldn't marry a man for you are making love at your lack of elect at all disheartened by your lack of first money in the health is money and in the money in the health is money and it is money and is money a

THE MOOD OF LOVE.

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

To practice the jitsu freak.") It was down on dear old Broadway That a maiden I spied—a birdi So I ranged 'longuide and I googue OES Betty really set all those letters?"

"How do you account for people writing about their love affairs to a stranger?"

I have been asked these two questions any number of times in the past formight by matter-of-fact persons to whom the mood of love is an unknown quantity. Yet to any one thut has loved, the state of mind which prompts

Any one that has loved, the state of mind which prompts the letters to Betty is easily comprehended.

Most lovers, like most insane persons, have moments when they realize the utter suspension of reasoning faculties from which they suffer. Edwin knows the absolute worthlessness of his own judgment of Angelina. He suspects the ingenuousness of his relatives and friends, who may be blased for or against her. Only a strange mind, he concludes, may judge her idiosyncracles of conduct in the light of pure reason and determine that most important problem—whether or not she loves him as he loves her.

The mood of love—or its moods, rather, for they are multiple as the summer sands—is one of alternating blind faith and equally blind suspicion. It needs the leaven of another mind to uliay its seething doubts and fears. We are all prone to ridicule the man or woman who confides to us on every operation the sentimental "story of his life." But the moment we fall in love curselves we understand the impelling necessity that prompted their confidences.

It is the duty of any of us who have loved on the sand of the sand o

The barrier of the first natives who make in the first natives who make in the first native who is a series of the first natives who is a series of the first native who is a series of the series of the first native who is a series of the first native part of the first native who is a series of the first native native

THE HOVIEREEPERS' EXCHANGE.

O'NE ounce of sum tragacanth and a pint and a half of cold water.

Let stand over other and then the stin will to get out tumps; add 5 or 6 crops of the o'l of wintergreen and it will not some or meld. Resp tight in a plant jar when not in use.

Sweet Tomato Pickls.

Sweet Tomato Pickls.

LICH one hask green temperature by the stin content in a contest form the pickle with one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end super of oil over and they will keep years. The football same, and since the pickle with one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end super of oil over and they will keep years ago I became in the football same, and since the property in the pickle with one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end say or aught, one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end say or aught, one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end say or aught, one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end say or aught, one cup of salt. Next dry drain, add end say woman searching for agmissibility as a gift suid not please a man baxisy that a concentration of the coller valle for By the way and woman searching for agmissibility as a gift suid not please a man baxisy that a concentration and the property of them.

LUCKLESS LANDS WHERE KISSING IS UNKNOWN.

Betty's Balm for Lovers. ng, plenty of good looks. Now, in your for him to marry in the mean time. He pay is alimony. If I were you I would et lings of affection—barring friendship the debt every month they problem.

Shall She Wait for Him?

told me that if he did not pay some on the debt every month they probably would jail him. I heard he was married and had a wife and some children, but he says no. I teld him if toe debt was only a few chousands that I could pay it for him, and that he could pay me when he could, and if unable if would be all right, but we have parted for awhile until he can get out of trouble. This other young man wants to marry me at once, but I don't love him. I leve only eas and with walt if I ind he is not a married man.

S. A.

The only way to find the whole matter. The only way to find out if he is matted or not is to employ a distribute agency to get information for you. Your peace of mind is certainly worth that expenditure.

HE Kissed Another.

Dear listty:

AM a young girl nineteen years old.

I have been keeping company with a young handsome fellow. I love him dearly. The other night while at a party I say him kiss another girl.

A kiss doesn't necessarily mean any-thing. If I were you I would mention the incident to the young man. Not take it seriously you know, but just "jolly" him as i you didn't care at all.

Pattern 5,172 1 5 Pattern 5,172 1 5 Sand 40 inch bust measure.

Call or send by mail to THE EVENING WORLD MAY MAN-TON FASHION BUREAU, No. 21 West Twenty third street, New York. Send ten cents in coin or stamps for each pattern ordered